Hi Field,

Attached is feedback from 4 members of the trip: Mark Hesemann, Eliot Delunas, Tiong Kah Kong and Keerati Jirapumin.

The main questions I asked the participants:

- What expectations did you have in joining this trip? Why did you join this trip?
- What was your favorite visit during the trip?
- What key learnings do you take-away from this trip?
- What were you surprised to learn about during this trip?
- Suggestions to help improve for future study trips?
- Suggestions in general you may have for the foundation?

Again, the outcome of the trip was beyond expectations, mainly due to the valuable learnings that everyone was able to come away with. Also, the bonding & friendships that were formed among strangers with a common background of being IU alumni and strong interest in Doi Tung-MFLF.

The purpose of this trip was to provide an opportunity for people to experience leisure and knowledge at the same time. Fortunately, the temperature was very accommodating and the scenery as beautiful as ever, so the schedule did not feel heavy at all.

I am glad to see each participant walk away with:

- Deeper appreciation of the work by Doi Tung & Mae Fah Luang Foundation.
- Lessons about sustainability & community work that they can apply to their own work place & daily lives
- Once impacted they share the story: this week, Tiong will use this learning in a lecture on ethics & CSR to the Polytechnic he teaches at in Singapore

Some key points that I read among the feedback:

- Adding an interactive activity such as planting a tree or treating the locals to a meal together to get closer to the people
- Being such a great lesson for all walks of life, they hope to see more online media about MFLF-DT to share with those unable to visit the project for themselves

Best regards,

Peter
