Part II: Opinion/Suggestions

Does the study visit meet your expectation? Why?

- The study visit met our expectation this year, too. This year visit is further improved from last year. The most important change was the discussion and Q&A session, which were very likely. It is because field was very knowledgeable and good at facilitation so that she inspired the participants' involvement.
- To know the thinking of global leaders besides Japanese leaders. Because I'm talking and discussing with same persons as usual business. As a result, I think that my thinking become unflexible, non-innovative mind. I hope new thinking for breaking my current mind for our future business.
- Everything was well prepared-you did excellent job to include a wide range of information in a short time window.
- Before coming to Thailand, I expected that I would be able to learn successful "Alternative Development" case through your session, I could learn not only above, but also in face, a lot of things such as sustainable model, Princess Mother's impressive words and so on. I could learn much more than I expected.
- Yes, I didn't know about Doitung development first time. It is great time to know about their activities. I learned that how to develop the villages and the way of economic growth. It can expand to other places beside Thailand.
- Before coming Doitung, I had expected to learn about leadership and to hear about particular story and business model in your program which I had heard as successful social business. I could understand that very much with Fields and other members' kind support also. The hall of inspiration and discussion with Duke are both excellent for me.
- Yes, I knew leaders' elements and what is necessary for preeding project in new land.

What have you learnt from the study visit?

- It is necessary for drastically development to have very strong mind, principle, passion, appeal and long time. Especially, strong leadership is essential and several ideas like 3S taught me how to explain and persuade to my team-member and business partner and someone.
- The 3S model, Sustainable = difficult to judge community involvement + trust is key. Change is good and introduces new challenges.
- I have learned how to engage a large number of people, by the sharing of people of Doitung development. The purpose opportunity goal is well understanding and common good. Common good make everyone to act.
- 3GS (Greed, Growth, Global imbalance) as framework, view point of field and understanding correctly what is happened in the field. Inclusion and communication are very important for social business. To get succeed, reader should fight against other organization and by themselves. Self reflection before sleeping is effective. Handing over the knowledge of experience is very important.
- I learnt many project of leadership and project management.

How would you apply what you have learnt to yourself or your work

- I want to be story teller. This study visit gave me a lot of story. I want to tell everyone those stories.
- Deeper listening, Work to understand clients. Looking at ecosystem from multiple perspectives.
- I have learned how to engage a large number of people from this visit. It can apply to my work, Team management. The one way everyone act with the same value, is sharing of purpose of what we do, I will tell the purpose of our business to my teammates.
- I gonna always think about common good. Even if I'm in difficult situation, I believe myself and go for it. To do that, I should reflect what I do each days.
- It is useful for working in cross-cultural environment.

Please suggest specific topics you would like to know more for future programme?

- Now discussion and tour is main program. How about adding experience study such as working together at coffee plantation by using tablet, And you also can know that tablet knowledge is explicit instructions or not for new members and we might suggest any specific improvement.
- Future transition of Doitung to local ownership global learning center activity.
- I want to know about the expanding of development to the other place, including overseas. I want to know about the activities with new leaders and new king of Thailand.
- I would like to know more detailed the challenge and future vision of your organization.
- It is enough program for studying.
